

I am responding to say that I DO NOT want telemarketers to be able to once again call at will and interrupt our time at home. Since the privacy act, our evenings have been so peaceful and enjoyable. Please do not take any action that would give unwanted solicitors access to our homes via telephone. We are able to put "no solicitation" signs on our physical residence for protect our privacy, and I feel we should have the same liberty regarding our phones. Thank you for your consideration.
